

What Services does the disAbility Law Center of Virginia provide?

The disAbility Law Center of Virginia (“dLCV”) advocates for and protects the legal rights of persons with disabilities. We do this through education, training, the promotion of self-advocacy skills for people with disabilities, and through information and referral services. We also provide direct advocacy services in particular cases that fall within our Strategic Goals and Focus Areas.

Due to limited resources, it is not possible for dLCV to provide legal services or direct representation to everyone who calls for assistance. dLCV provides several levels of support and assistance.

However, we believe that people with disabilities are their own best advocates. Therefore, dLCV may provide you with information, written materials or limited technical assistance that will assist you in speaking for yourself. We will also refer you to other agencies or resources when appropriate.

dLCV has specific Strategic Goals and Focus Areas that are designed to affect the broadest improvements possible in Virginia’s disability services systems. Our federal grants establish eligibility criteria for our services and require us to use funds in a focused and careful manner. We establish the focus for our work based on public input, experience, and identified underserved areas and issues. The focus areas have been approved by our Governing Board. The selection of these focus areas does not mean that other issues are not important, but are intended to assist dLCV to use its resources most effectively.

Within these Goals and Focus Areas, dLCV uses case selection criteria to decide the level of service that will be provided. In selecting cases for direct representation, preference will be given, where appropriate, to those individuals who exercised self-advocacy through technical assistance or short-term assistance provided by dLCV. These criteria include consideration of:

- Severity of harm.
- Imminence of risk.
- Potential of case to facilitate systems change or benefit other individuals.
- Availability of other resources to help the individual address the alleged violation.
- Self-advocacy ability of client or family.
- Availability of other appropriate, independent investigatory authorities.
- Availability of dLCV resources.
- Legal merit or available remedy.

If a case is being evaluated for litigation, additional factors may be considered. dLCV will seek prevailing party attorneys’ fees where appropriate. dLCV will not be able to provide you with legal services if you already have an attorney or other advocacy assistance or have the right to appointed counsel in a specific matter.

The following Goals and Focus Areas are the disAbility Law Center of Virginia’s strategic plan of action. They are the guidelines by which the dLCV determines the level of advocacy services provided. Cases may be opened outside of the stated Goals and Focus Areas only with the approval of the Executive Director.
